ANNA NIELSEN—SHAREHOLDER OF THE YEAR

The Choggiung Ltd. Board of Directors is proud to honor Anna Nielsen as Choggiung Ltd. Shareholder of the Year.

Anna was born on January 16, 1927 at Nushagak Point to Elena and Constantine Backford. She grew up at Nushagak with her brothers and sisters: Helen, Agafangel, Vera, Billy, Ben, Dora and Sassa. Anna married her husband Chuck in 1960 they have 2 children: Dugan and Anecia, and 5 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. Raising her children and watching her grandchildren grow and succeed in life is one of the most rewarding accomplishments of her life.

Anna left home at the age of 15 and went to work at Peggy's Restaurant and the Boarding House at the University in Anchorage. She attributes those employers for instilling good values and work ethic in her and feels she was lucky to have had them as supervisors as they guided and encouraged her to not give up. After she was married, she fished with her husband Chuck during the summer months and held positions as a cook during the winter months. Cooking continues to be one of her delights; she often provides delicious dishes for the Sisterhood's bake sales and catering efforts and enjoys sharing her tasty goods with friends and relatives. Anna is especially notorious for her delicious pies and wonderful breads.

Anna has always been a dedicated Christian of the Russian Orthodox faith and active member of the St. Seraphim of Sarov Church in Dillingham. She was a strong voice in the choir and has been of great sustenance to the Mary Magdalene Orthodox Sisterhood.

Anna and her husband ran the Ice Cream Parlor back in the early 70's. Many of you can probably recall the welcoming atmosphere of the Parlor. She has been personally thanked by many for the support she gave to the now grown youth of that time. Not realizing the positive im-fact that she had on the children, Anna humbly stated that she treated all the kids alike and gave them rules they had to follow at the Parlor. If they didn't follow them, they simply weren't allowed back without an apology. She offers this advice to today's parents: "Be there to listen to your children when they talk to you, even though you might not agree with them. Give them plenty of food for thought and positive encouragement and they will, in turn, pass these qualities on to their children and grandchildren.

Anna says that every day is a learning experience, even to this day. She never forgot the words her father told her when she was just a girl: "Keep your eyes & ears open and your mouth shut and you'll learn a lot".

Though she is retired, Anna remains very active and, from her new home on the Lake Road, continues to put up fish and enjoy as much berry-picking as her heart desires. She said, "I can't sit still and get old; you do what you can, while you can". Leading by example, Anna remains a positive role model for those around her.
